Texas GOP Backs Dems; Seeks To Win State To Ike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Republicans seeking to cinch Texas' vote for Eisenhower hurried ancient party lines and snuffed out the hottest internal feud in state GOP history.

Their convention here Tuesday named a full ticket of already nominated Democrats as Republican candidates for state offices, an action unprecedented in Texas politics.

Ike Announces Dixie, Midwest "Whistlestops"

GOP Nominee Leaves New York Sept. 2, To Hit 14 Cities

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced his first major campaign trip today, a double-circle route that will carry him through strategic voting areas in the South and the Middle West.

Leaving New York Sept. 2, he will make appearances in 14 cities in 10 states. The schedule also includes speeches in New York and Philadelphia. The itinerary:

Sept. 1 — New York.
Sept. 2 — Atlanta, Ga., and Jacksonville and Miami, Fla.

Sept. 3 — Tampa, Fla., Birmingham, Ala., Little Rock, Ark., and return New York.

Sept. 4 — Philadelphia.

Sept. 5 — Chicago.

Sept. 6 — Rochester, Kasson and Minneapolis, Minn.

Sept. 7 (Sunday) — Minneapolis no appointments.

Sept. 8 — Indianapolis, Ind.

Sept. 10 — Return New York.

One of his aides said today the general will remain in New York for no more than two or three days before starting on an even longer swing, via the traditional campaign "train" with numerous "whistle stop" appearances. The route has not been fixed.

Probably, during that period, Eisenhower will meet with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whom he defeated in a bitter battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

One of the general's aides said Taft had told him, in a telephone conversation, that the senator has yet how extensive his campaigning will be.

The Ohio senator was defeated for the GOP nomination by Eisenhower in a bitter battle at the Chicago party convention in July.

There have been some reports that Taft, although he promised support of the ticket immediately after the convention, might not take an active part in the campaign.

The Ohio senator made it clear that he is prepared to take the stump for Eisenhower but he added he will not engage in any "whistle stop" campaigning.

"I shall certainly make some speeches in Ohio," Taft said. "I have a dozen or so invitations to speak in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, but I have put off accepting any of them until some definite arrangements are made."

Taft said he wants to discuss with Eisenhower the issues of the campaign, adding that he is "interested in what the new administration is going to be like if the general is elected."

This was interpreted as a desire by Taft to have Eisenhower spell out for him, in advance of any campaigning by the Ohio senator, the nominee's stand on such issues as retention of the Taft-Hartley Act, reduction in federal spending and other domestic issues.

Arthur E. Summerfield, GOP national chairman, said Gen. Eisenhower would arrive in Cleveland at noon and spend the afternoon in meetings.

The state party leaders also will discuss campaign problems with representatives of the National Committee, the Republican Senatorial Committee and the GOP Congressional Committee, Summerfield said.

Eisenhower is scheduled to attend a National Finance Committee dinner of the party and leave Cleveland Sept. 9 for Indianapolis for a night speech there.

The conference is the third such scheduled. The first was Aug. 21 in Kansas City and the second will be in Chicago Sept. 5 for party leaders from Michigan, Illinois and Indiana.

Taft To Meet Ike To Discuss Campaign Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio said today he probably will meet with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower shortly after Sept. 10 to discuss the senator's role in the Republican presidential campaign.

Taft told this reporter by telephone from his Murray Bay, Canada, vacation spot that he expects to speak for Eisenhower and the Republican ticket but doesn't know when.

U.S., Its Allies Have Tight Hold On World's Oil Supply

NEW YORK (AP) — Whether by cartel or not, the United States and its allies have—as of today—an effective corner on the oil supply which would be needed to wage a major war.

They will continue to have that corner as long as the Middle East and Venezuela look to them rather than to Russia.

And that adds spice to the report that W. Alton Jones, president of Cities Service Co., an American firm with oil properties, is in Iran looking over its oil mess.

The cartel angle grows out of this:

The U. S. government charges that seven American, British and Dutch owned oil companies (Jones' company is not one of them) control to their own profit most of the world's production and distribution (outside Russia and the United States) with emphasis on their holdings in the Middle East and Venezuela.

The government charges the seven use this control over production to keep crude oil prices up, and competition down.

The American companies deny they are part of such a cartel. They assert that their every move outside the United States has been taken with full knowledge of the State Department.

The courts are asked to decide which is right.

Whether the government is correct or the companies right, the world oil picture shapes up like this today:

Russia is building up her oil industry as fast as she can. Latest word is that it's progressing even faster than first expected.

Even so, last year she produced an estimated 308 million barrels of oil. The United States produced 2,214,321,000.

If Russia steps up production by 1955 to the goal she has set—65 per cent above last year's output—she would produce only around one-fourth as much as U. S. output last year.

The significance, however, lies in the world figures—and the grip which Americans, British, Dutch and others of the free world still have upon world production and world reserves.

State Fair's Best Hogs Bringing $1.15 Pound

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Prize winning hogs at the Ohio State Fair are selling for an average of 24 cents a pound, but the best of the class have gone for as much as $1.15 a pound.

The top price was paid for a grand champion Chester white barrow weighing 245 pounds, owned by the Ohio State University. The top price of $1.15 a pound was 15 cents higher than last year's price.

A reserve champion 215 pound Hampshire, owned by Andrews and Duggan, Bloomingburg, O., sold for 60 cents a pound.

Junior exhibitors also did well with their sales. Top price went to Ellen Yake, 10-year-old from Cardington, O., for her champion 4-H barrow. The buyer paid 57½ cents a pound.

Other champion hogs shown by the youngsters got from 40 to 44 cents a pound.

BRIDGE CAME TUMBLING DOWN. The cab of a trailer tank truck hauling 6,000 gallons of jet plane fuel just got this 150-foot steel bridge spanning Five Mile Creek in Dallas, Tex., when the bridge collapsed, jerking the trailer loose and dumping it in the 40-foot gulch. The cab is on the road behind firemen. A car, following the truck, ran down the ramp-like bridge floor. Only casualty was a woman passenger in the car, who suffered a broken foot.

Radio, TV Notebook

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP) — College football on television this fall, now arranged in more detailed form, will be available both live and on films.

As already announced, the live games will be on NBC-TV Saturday afternoons like last year, except that each station will carry 11 contests instead of seven. The starting contest is Texas Christian vs Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., on Sept. 20. Each hookup will be coast to coast.

This will be the second year under the plan of the National Collegiate Athletic Association which limits the number of games to be televised.

The TV lineup also will have two sets of selected filmed versions, one the "All-American Game of the Week" and the other the "Big Ten Game of the Week." Each will be a half-hour film condensation with commentary transmitted one or more days after the play.

The All-American game will include contests in the Big Ten, the Big Seven and the Pacific Coast Conferences, as well as Eastern, Southern and non-conference colleges.

The Big Ten series will go to 20 stations in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minneapolis, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah and Texas under a single sponsor.

When the year-end bowl season rolls around, wider telecasting of those games is expected. Last year only the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., was available. This time the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., is to be added.

Milton Berle, who, when he returns to NBC-TV for his fifth season Sept. 16, is reducing his schedule by skipping every fourth Tuesday, plans to make a change in format. Instead of the act-by-act vaudeville show of the past, the program will be turned into a situation comedy with Berle as star but with the usual guest roster.

Brannan Plan Becomes Issue

GOP Starts Early Blasting Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are trying to turn the tables on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan this presidential campaign year.

Four years ago the Democratic farm chief made the Republican-controlled 80th Congress a target in the important Midwestern farm belt on the basis of its farm legislation. Brannan's campaign was credited by the Democrats with playing a major role in President Truman's upset victory over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The 1948 farm issue centered largely on action of the GOP Congress in restricting the government's power to store farm products.

This year, the Republicans have got off to an early start in attacking Brannan. Their guns are being pointed at a controversial farm plan he advanced in 1949 and on a contention that his successful 1948 campaign was based upon misrepresentation.

The GOP claims that the Brannan farm plan — which would expand the government's power to control farm production and make broad use of subsidies to keep farmers prosperous — would regiment agriculture. But Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, has sought to toss the Brannan plan aside with the statement that it is not recommended by him.

More attention is being paid to charges made by several Republicans leaders that the 1948 Democratic victory in the farm belt was gained by a trumped-up issue. These claims have been made by Gov. Dewey, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware.

By mid-summer of 1948, it was quite apparent that bumper crops were being produced. Secretary Brannan came out with statements that there was a shortage of storage space for wheat, corn and other grains. He said the government's price support programs for the grains would not be effective because of a storage shortage.

Under the support program, farmers could get loans at the price support rates provided their grain was stored in acceptable facilities, either commercial or on the farm. This meant, Brannan said, that the farmer who could not get storage would have to accept whatever price he could get in the market.

The Agriculture Department could have helped such farmers, the secretary said, had it not been for the 80th Congress, which deprived the government of authority to build, erect and own storage facilities.

The fact that the 80th Congress took away this storage authority, Brannan claimed, was proof that Republicans would, if given a chance, weaken and destroy farm aid programs.

At the time, the Republicans largely ignored the Brannan campaign.

However, Dewey, Aiken and Williams have come forward this year with the claim that Brannan deliberately took steps to cause farm prices to fall in 1948 with the idea of trying to fasten responsibility on the GOP for campaign purposes.

They contend there is no evidence that there was an actual shortage of storage space that year. They say there are no reports of any unusual amount of grain going to waste because of inadequate storage and care.

The Republicans also contend that Brannan's talk of a storage shortage, had the effect of depressing prices. They further claim that he failed to take other steps permitted by law to halt price declines.

$2 1/2 Million Sought From Hearst Will

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Millie V. Hearst wants $2 1/2 million dollars from the estate of her late husband, publisher William Randolph Hearst.

In a suit filed yesterday, she said Hearst died owing her $2,416,500 under two agreements, signed in 1921 and 1927, giving her up to $20,000 monthly for support of herself and their five sons. Sometimes he failed to make these payments, she said.

Mrs. Hearst said executors of the state have neither acknowledged nor rejected her claim, and she wants an accounting.

Hearst's will left most of his estate in two trusts, one for the benefit of the widow and the sons, and the other for charitable purposes.

Man Carries Grudge 25 Years, Tries To Kill Ex-Policeman

CRESSON, Pa. (AP) — A man who carried a grudge for 25 years attacked and tried to kill a retired U. S. narcotics agent Monday night in his apartment here.

The victim is Matthew Crouch, 55, one-time police chief in Cresson, who served 22 years with the U. S. Treasury Department before retiring.

Crouch suffered knife slashes on both hands and was almost utterly exhausted before he was able to hurl his assailant from the apartment and lock the door. He was not injured seriously.

Police Chief Rober Kinney identified the attacker as Stanley Wharton, 41, of Cleveland, O., whom Crouch arrested for burglary a quarter of a century ago. At that time, Kinney was police chief at Cresson.

Kinney gave this version:

2 Metals Taken Off Critical List

Aluminum, Copper Now More Plentiful

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government took copper and aluminum off its critical list today and indicated an improving metal supply situation may permit a big boost in military and civilian production next year.

The Defense Production Administration forecast an adequate supply of steel, copper and aluminum in early 1953.

Copper particularly has become more plentiful, partly because not so much of it was used by manufacturers during the steel strike. DPA Administrator Henry M. Fowler reportedly has advised the Defense Department that more materials can be expected by next April, or earlier. While not suggesting increased military production, he has told the military men they can schedule greater arms production if they wish to do so.

Yesterday, the National Production Authority told the construction industry it can expect considerably greater quantities of materials by next April, or perhaps as early as next Jan. 1 for private building.

A two-year ban on building such recreational facilities as race tracks, pool halls, ball parks and swimming pools also will be lifted next April, or possibly earlier, the NPA said.

In taking copper and aluminum off the DPA's scarcity list, Fowler said quantities of these two key metals are now sufficient, under existing controls, to meet all important needs of both defense and civilian production.

The steel strike, he said, delayed construction of new aluminum plants and aluminum stocking goals have been boosted. Yet, he said, aluminum will be increasingly available for all civilian uses.

The steel supply, he said, will return to the relatively plentiful state it was before the recent strike by early next year. He said the strike cost about 2 1/2 months production this year.

Later they will visit Minnesota and Wisconsin and go to Washington Sept. 22 where they will spend a few days as guests of Ambassador Morgenstierne. They will call on President Truman and other American officials.

British Javelin Called Best Fighter

LONDON (AP) — Britain says she has the "most effective fighter plane in the world," a triangle-shaped jet called the Gloster Javelin.

An announcement authorized yesterday by the Royal Air Force said the weird-looking plane is faster than sound — 660 miles per hour at sea level — and is "more maneuverable and docile at lower speeds than any fighter since the biplane era."

The Javelin is the world's first twin-engined fighter of the delta design, in which the swept-back wings form a triangle virtually the length of the plane's body. It is 57 feet long and has a wingspan of 52 feet. The tip of its tail stands 17 feet from the ground.

Grindstone Blues

The horse-laugh which greeted a furtive report from a Democratic-controlled Senate committee that the Taft-Hartley Act's anti-Communist clause wasn't working and should be repealed is going to break out again.

This time the occasion is a report from the Bureau of Internal Revenue that the licensing and taxing of professional gamblers hasn't stopped gambling and therefore should be repealed.

In both instances, there has been no systematic attempt to enforce the law; in the case of the Taft-Hartley Act there has been something resembling a systematic attempt to ignore the law.

Moreover, in both instances have been powerful forces grinding an ax, at the expense of the people's welfare, to give these enactments of Congress a black eye.

Sen. Kefauver earned for himself the undying enmity of the organized gamblers in some of the country's largest cities by heading the Senate Crime Committee which unveiled their evil works and connections with the Democratic party.

The law to license and tax gamblers which was one of the results of the committee's investigation has been marked for the kill only by the people it hurts. They do not want it enforced; they want it repealed.

Before they get organized to kill it, a new Senate Crime Committee could probably take a tour of the country to see how the law has been working. There is still gambling. But there is only a fraction of the gambling that was going on before Congress passed a law which clobbered gamblers if they obeyed it and made them subject to an even worse fate if they didn't obey.

What remains to be done now is to enforce the law, not repeal it to suit the gamblers.

Clutter Prevention

In a completely logical society which always meant what it said and said what it meant, legal codes would be masterpieces of succinct expression.

But since this is not a completely logical society, the written law is likely to be a masterpiece of murkiness. Words may be used to conceal meanings as well as to reveal them. The dark purposes which are sometimes found in the minds of lobbyists.

Ohio is trying to simplify its general code. For some seven years a bureau of code revision has been clipping the fluff, dead wood and repetition out of approximately 15,000 code sections. It has been able to get rid of almost half the sheer volume of wordage, besides creating a more rational arrangement of the sections. No one questions that the revised version is an improvement, but no one questions that the improvement will be haggled over and fought to a standstill by those who would prefer to retain the Topsy version.

The question is whether or not Gov. Lausche will call a special session of the General Assembly that will convene in January. While that is being decided, another question might be considered.

If every law passed had to lie around for one year after its first passage and be repassed before it went into effect, half the laws would never go into effect. Code clutter would be stopped at the source.

The Legion Settles Down

There is no prospect that the American Legion convention in New York will approach or even try to approach its old-time level of fun-making.

The 6,500 delegates and alternates, the 850 delegates to the Legion Auxiliary and the thousands of visitors who will be drawn to the city by the convention will have a good time. But recreation has quit being the dominant characteristic of Legion conventions.

This cannot be accounted for entirely by the accumulating years of the original Legion members. The younger men who have come into the organization as veterans of World War II have a more sober concept of its convention activities.

They now realize what has long been evident—that as members of the largest organization of the growing total of war veterans they have come into a status of heavy responsibility. The Legion's current membership is approximately 2,728,000. Before World War II, membership stood at 1,078,000.

Both presidential candidates will address the Legion convention. The entire country will await the convention's resolutions, as a guide to what is in the minds of the men who have earned the right to be heard.

People dream of waking up and finding themselves rich—then find out they're wrong because they failed to wake up.

The least we can do for our returning boys is to let their path of glory lead to a good job.

Women run for Congress now and then likely because they figure their place is in the House.

What Issues?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

More Agreement Than Disagreement

Both presidential candidates and the two vice presidential nominees have been whittling down many of the issues to the point where there is so much more agreement than disagreement that most everybody is wondering on just what points the campaign is going to be waged, after all.

Governor Stevenson started it off by implying that he was veering away from the Truman record and by his answer to a letter which asked him about "cleaning up the mess" in Washington. When he conceded, there was a mess to clean up, he gave ground—at least, President Truman thinks so, for he blandly turns his eyes the other way now and says he doesn't know anything about the existence of a "mess." That's the traditional rule in politics, which Mr. Truman knows so well, as it applies to both parties—admit nothing by way of error and always point with pride to all your achievements.

Governor Stevenson, on the other hand, concedes that there have been some good things in the way of social gains in the last 20 years and asks that these "goals" be considered above politics. So that's out as an issue.

A SEASONED political campaigner, however, would have said that the social gains were of questionable value because of having been achieved at a cost that may yet bankrupt the country. Social gains aren't gains if the dollar is being driven down to 50 cents or less and if the economic structure is wobbly. The Republican argument in 1948 was that social gains can't be beneficial unless better administered and soundly financed. Anyway, the Eisenhower approach subtracts from the campaign a substantial part of the Democratic record of 20 years, and usually in politics the whole record is attacked without conceding a thing.

General Eisenhower says he wants to travel the "middle way" and Governor Stevenson says he does, too, and that both are "moderates." The Illinois governor calls General Eisenhower a "me-toor," which is a purposeful characterization. For if the Democratic nominee can show that the Republican nominee believes in the same things he does, then "change" isn't necessary after all.

Maybe all this "brotherly love" in politics will be altered soon, as the two standard-bearers get into their stride. It seems incredible that the two parties will not be hammering away at each other before long with much more punch than they have exhibited thus far. For if Governor Stevenson isn't ready to go right down the line 100 per cent for the Truman record, he may encounter some coolness and apathy among his "left wing" allies, just as General Eisenhower, if he doesn't strike out hard at that same Truman record, will not bring the "right wing" Taftites back into the fold.

AS FOR THE use of maximum power in Korea, this point is a bit hazy. General Eisenhower says he knew of no military plan to bomb the cities of China from the air, and many newspaper writers erroneously assumed he was differing from General MacArthur. Actually, the former far eastern commander has specifically denied that he ever recommended an at-

Peace With Freedom

By WADE JONES

At long last, and high time too, an organization in the western world comes forth with a plan for peace to rally under, have been trapped by what the Communists are offering."

The organization is a new one called the World Veterans Federation. When founded less than two years ago it had a membership of 8 million in six different nations. Today its membership totals more than 15 million in 16 nations, plus the International Confederation of Ex-Prisoners of War.

Member organizations in this country are AMVETS, the Disabled American Veterans, the American Veterans Committee, and the Blinded Veterans Association.

The program of the world organization is two-fold—peace with freedom, as compared to the peace with tyranny offered by the Communists, and the rehabilitation of disabled veterans.

The Federation feels that its big strength for peace lies in the fact that its members all know first hand what war is like, and also that most of its key members in various countries are war heroes whose voices will be listened to.

Federation officials emphasize it is by no means a peace-at-any-price movement, but rather peace with freedom, and only that way.

The organization has a consultative voice in the United Nations and one of its principal aims is to strengthen the U.N. by giving the millions of Federation members a voice in UN proceedings.

Harold Russell, the amputee veteran who is past national commander of AMVETS, represents the United States on the Federation's nine-member watchdog commission for preserving peace.

One function of the commission is to go personally to world trouble areas and report back to the United Nations and to the Federation on the situation as war veterans unencumbered by the policies and red tape of an official government fact-finding body.

Within the United Nations the Federation is pushing for a world development authority. The purpose of the authority would be to recommend measures for relieving poverty in various parts of the world as a step towards relieving the discontent and strife which can lead to war.

Summing up Federation peace aims, one of its officials says, "We want to attract those millions

Do You Hear A Familiar Ring To This Business?

Fighting Waste

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It took a long time to convince our military men that while the citizens are willing to pay heavily for the defense of their country, they cannot condone wilful extravagance. The idea of a universal standard catalogue to apply to all services is so logical, so reasonable that it was never understandable why anyone should have opposed it. Yet, for years the military fought it and an attempt to create such a catalogue by a committee appointed by the department of defense was operated at such a snail's pace that many inferred that either those in charge were inefficient or that the project was being sabotaged.

Two Congress has acted. Public law 436 sets up standard catalogue, provides a director and deputy director to supervise it, and requires reports every six months. Little is left to chance.

The law requires:

IT OUGHT NOW not to be possible for each department of defense to pay a different price for the identical commodity simply by calling it a different name. It ought to be possible to keep crooks, fixers, middlemen out of the supply business. The reputable houses do not want any of the little tricks that have been employed by five percenters or ten percenters or Washington lawyers to get contracts. They are generally not set up for transactions which involve unusual bookkeeping processes.

They do not wish to be involved in congressional investigations which reflect upon their integrity. They have usually favored the standardized catalogue. The opposition to the standard catalogue has come from chiselers.

Our government is not very efficient because it has lived long on easy money. Extravagances were not felt by the people, but today when about 40 cents out of every earned dollar goes to taxes, it is a different story. The president, in other days, announced an emergency and the taxpayer agreed to almost anything. Such senators as Robert A. Taft and the law requires:

... THERE SHALL be a single catalogue, which may consist of a number of volumes, sections, or supplements, in which all items of supply shall be included and in which there shall appear information on each item needed for supply operations such as descriptive and performance data, size, weight, cubage, packaging or packing data, a standard quantitative measurement unit, and such other related data as is determined by the director of the agency to be necessary or desirable.

"In supply standardization, it shall be the duty of the agency to achieve the highest practicable degree possible in the standardization of items used throughout the department of defense, through the development and use of single specifications, and in the elimination of overlapping and duplicating

Having just finished that fine story about mutiny on the S.S. Caine, I do not hesitate to chime in on a proposition which is sweeping the country.

The word "queeg" should be taken into the American language.

If you do not know what a "queeg" is, you will be needing to find out. It comes from the name of the incredibly incompetent captain in "The Caine Mutiny."

This superficially qualified officer was given command of a minesweeper because he had been in the U.S. Navy for 14 years and because a war was being fought. But he lacked all the real qualifications for command, as was demonstrated in short order.

Yet, hundreds of men had to put up with his shortcomings. He tried to hide by making himself a martinet; that was part of the system. While some readers of this fictional account are jumping to the conclusion this is an indictment of the U.S. Navy it is vastly broader than that.

It is an indictment of all systems in which command can be bestowed on the unworthy as the result of a system. Essentially, the book is a gripping account of what can happen to people who become the hapless and helpless victims of bad leadership. The author's choice of a minesweeper in a war as the microcosm for bringing the situation to a clear focus was a way to tell a story which is universal. Otherwise, he would have had to take in so much territory the frame would have been too big for the picture.

Everyone has had reason to know and resent "queegs." They are as numerous as babbitts and more harmful than snakes. In a society which seems to grow more complicated every day, they are the weak links in the chain of command—the places where the breakdowns invariably occur because they are incapable of doing what must be done. But woe to anyone who looks at them cross-eyed. They are the symbols of authority.

They are the ones who swelled up when given responsibility; they did not grow up.

The first foreman I worked for after finishing college was a queeg. Every man in his department lived in fear of this jowly, bullet-headed ignoramus who kept prouling about looking for petty excuses to show his authority. By over-managing his men he killed all their initiative. They despised him and worked tirelessly to uphold what was left of their native dignity. They returned his contempt for their rights with contempt for his inability to command them efficiently.

Herman Wouk, who wrote "The Caine Mutiny," has contributed a word for an idea—"queeg." They are everywhere, these queegs. It will be a miracle if they do not finally drag down the systems which keep spawning them—systems which must bestow authority in order to keep themselves from growing inert and helpless. Though no one knows how to create personalities and intellects capable of wielding authority over free men, someone must give orders.

The "queegs" are despised. They are held up to ridicule their fellow men snigger behind their backs. This had been going on for a long time before Herman Wouk dramatized it with a fictional account of what happened on a rusty old tub in the Pacific during World War II. It will keep going on for a long time. But at last there is a name for it—"queeg."

We've read a number of hot dog eating contests this summer. A grilling sport.

Why is it that there's never any static on the radio during the bedtime stories?

At the bathing beauty shows an awful lot of it certainly does.

A giant ant-eater has a tongue two and one-half feet long. When two females get together it should be a riot!

Some men send the wife and kids away on a separate vacation—and finally become bosses in their own homes.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

News From Moscow

The Kremlin announces its first congress in 13 years, scheduling a change in party name, a new set of rules, new faces and a new five-year plan. We are wondering what will be the effect on America and the world. Will it come in October, be a counter attraction to our election? Will Joe try to crowd Ike and Adlai off the front pages? Will it ruin October? Will it be the first showing of a new 1953 type of upsidown talk?

The Politburo is to be replaced by a Presidium. We don't know what a Presidium is, but understand it is just a Politburo with a new radiator ornament, bigger bumpers and new quick-detachable freedoms. Whatever it is it will be ushered in with all the fanfare that doubletalk makes possible. It will be proclaimed through 70-gun salutes, multiple mikes, power steering and the world's largest propaganda mills working on a night and day shift. There is no business like Joe business. The whole machinery of Communism will be checked to make sure it is as bad as advertised. After 13 years there is a chance some kindness has crept in unobserved.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT says the party program will be revamped and the party name changed from the All-Union Communist Party to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. But Joe will retain the name Joe and we do not expect Pravda to change its name to The Evening Beacon or see Izvestia coming out under the banner line Sweetness and Light. It is rumored Stalin will step into the wings and let Georgi Malenkov take the bows. (This we wanna see.) Malenkov had better be careful not to take too many, as Molotov will also be watching. When Joe gives any farewell concert the other members of the orchestra will be wise if they suppress all personal ambitions to grab a baton. Of course, there is a possibility the whole thing is just an autumn production number out of which nothing will come beyond a poodle haircut for the Politburo and a lower neckline for the Kremlin.

In the announced new rules all Communists will have their party dues raised, thus demonstrating that money is money even to "Presidiums." In return the people get fresh guarantees of life, liberty and mutual suspicions. The new regulations are clear and concise:

1.—All Russians shall be members of the Communist Party.

2.—Or else.

THE COMPLETE agenda is not out. But we are sure of one opening event: An announcement that Russia invented everything except the cardboard container for baby chicks, the elastic pajama waistband and the hole in the doughnut. One of the rules announced for adoption reads, "When deciding the question of excluding from the party a member who has committed an offense, the maximum care must be exercised and a very careful examination made of the fact and all reasons leading to the accusation." . . . Wanna bet?

WILL HOLD REUNION

The Wuthrich family reunion will be held Sunday at Centennial Park in the large open pavilion. Fred Raber of Alliance is president and Shirley Raber of Alliance is secretary.

After-swimming care of your elasticized bathing suit should consist of gently squeezing the suit through lukewarm soapsuds; working soap into soiled spots with a soft washcloth; and rinsing thoroughly and drying in shade. Never use an iron.

Both mothers were attired in summer prints with corsages of red roses.

After a reception for 150 guests the couple left for a short honeymoon. They will reside in Salem when they return.

In the city, the same general type dress goes to matinees, to late-afternoon parties, to small and informal dinners and even, at times, to the theater in the evening.

But small town or big city, it's a dress a woman must have if she leads even a fairly active social life.

A sophisticated dress for city life (left) is this feminine design, softly draped and folded, done in an organzine taffeta. Gentle drapery rounds out the bosom and shoulders, deals gracefully with the hipline.

Equally handsome but less extreme (right) is this dress in shiny rayon satin. Again, the soft drapery appears in the neckline and brief sleeves, is suggested in the unusual cluster effect achieved in the very full skirt. Waistline is small and neat.

Legion Plans Street Fair

Rotarians Hear Guest Speaker

COLUMBIANA—Firestone American Legion Post, at its meeting Monday evening, made final arrangements for the 66th annual Columbian street fair and homecoming, which it has sponsored since the end of World War I, and which is scheduled for the last three days of next week, Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

This will be the 33rd fair under the management of the post, which took over from the time of its organization in 1919.

Ellis Ritchie, immediate past commander of Firestone Post, is manager of the fair, with Commander Paul Flynn as his assistant. Other officials are: Harry Lundgreen, secretary; Jack Lindsay, treasurer; Hal Johnson, publicity; Marcus Hum and Thomas Snyder, street committee; Robert Exten, special police; Al Wakefield and Kenneth Reash, headquarters tent; Robert Volnogie, "eats" tent; Lewis Way, president of the Chamber of Commerce, merchants and manufacturers' tent.

MAIN ST. WILL be closed from the public square south to Railroad St., with the large exhibit tent at the lower end, near Railroad St. The tent is provided by Firestone Post for exhibits by merchants and manufacturers under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, which originated the idea four years ago. George Keller, chairman of reservations for exhibits, reports that exhibit spaces are being taken rapidly, and he expects all to be occupied. Reservations are being made with Mr. Keller at Keller's Hardware. The Booster Club is providing two custodians for the tent, R. G. Bevington and Art Rohrer, and is co-operating further with the Legion post and Chamber of Commerce by arranging to clean the street after the close of the fair Saturday midnight.

Harry Lundgreen, chairman of concessions, reports that virtually all the concessions have been taken. Local interests were given first chance, and since August 6 concessions have been open to outside interests. The post, assisted by its auxiliary, will have an "eats" tent.

THE GOODING Amusement Co. has the concession again this year for the rides and other amusements along the street. Friday night, the second night of the fair, a girls' quartet from the Lisbon Legion auxiliary will be a special attraction and Saturday night Dave Reese and his "high hatters," Youngstown "Rube" band, will be the attraction.

For many years the Columbian fair was the only one of its kind in Northeastern Ohio, and its popularity has increased with the years. The idea was brought here by James D. Jones, when he returned to Columbian after several years residence in Alliance, where such a fair was held in the early 1880's, but has long since been abandoned.

Horse show benefits last year raised more than $20,000,000 for the cause of underprivileged children, one of the projects of Rotary International. Ed Jenkins of the Youngstown Neon Sign Co. and owner of Southern Stables, between Columbian and Youngstown, told the Rotary Club, Monday evening.

ON THE SUBJECT of horse shows, Mr. Jenkins said eight breeds are usually shown at these exhibitions, which are increasing as money-raising events for philanthropic purposes. Light horses, as distinguished from draft horses, are the kind entered in shows, and their number in the United States has doubled to 20,000,000 in the last couple of years, he said. "The most popular breed is the Tennessee walking horse," said Mr. Jenkins, "and there is a horse suited to every individual."

The speaker was presented by Program Chairman Chester Burwick, a member of the Columbian Saddle & Bridle Club, who had his son, Joseph, as his guest. Visiting Rotarians were Dr. F. R. Crowley of Salem, and Murray Garr of Youngstown, Dr. K. D. Reed of Detroit was a guest of Allan White, and C. W. McGinley of Akron a guest of Charles Harper, assistant manager of Firestone Farms.

There will be no meeting next Monday evening. A week later, Sept. 8, will be ladies' night at Firestone Park, with John Fitzpatrick as general chairman.

IN A RIVALRY with the Steubenville and Salem clubs for attendance honors in the 15th division of 13 clubs, the Columbian Kiwanis Club has maintained its record for attendance during the summer months. The Columbian Club has set the record for the district several months this year.

The meeting at Heck's Monday night was no exception. There was no set program under the summer schedule, and after the meal, members enjoyed recreation in Firestone Park.

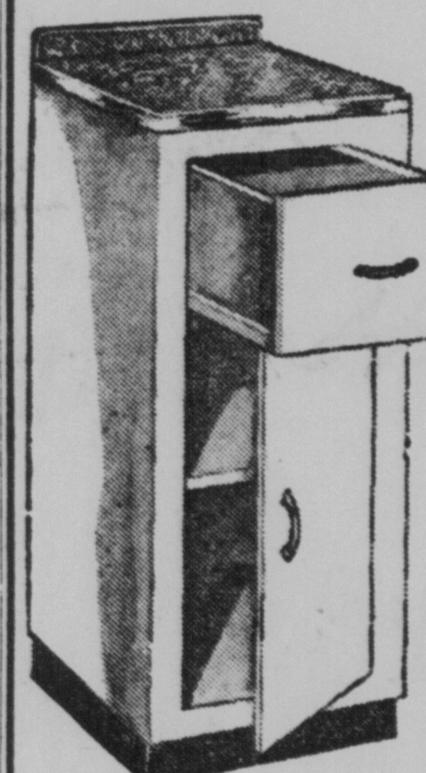

Open church will be observed in the Leetonia Mennonite church at 8 p.m. tomorrow for the marriage of Miss Betty Jane Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rice, 611 Well Rd. at the southern edge of town, and John Bergey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bergey of near Souderton, Pa. Rev. S. A. Yoder will officiate for the Mennonite ceremony.

Rotary Hears Talk On Life In Sweden

People in Sweden liked Margaret Truman, Eric Forsgren told Rotarians at their noon meeting Tuesday in the Memorial Building, but the newspapers there played up the episode of her "bullying" guards to such an extent so as to hide the nation's true feeling.

Mr. Forsgren, a native of Sweden studying engineering production methods in the United States, was employed a few months by the Electric Furnace Co. He is now associated with a firm in Pittsburgh.

Sweden's plants are being built underground, he said, in case of another war. Other facts he gave on his country were:

For its size, it has the greatest jet air force in the world. It is noted for its aviation achievements.

Average income there is about $1,200. Class lines are more distinct than the U.S. and classes rarely intermingle.

It is noted for its high-quality steel, which, he said, is better than that of the U.S., but lacks its mass production techniques. Sweden is studying America's mass production.

Government is similar to ours, the king having the right of veto but seldom using it. People don't rush around like Americans and therefore, have a longer life span. They also marry at a later age—24—compared to the average age of 20 here.

Church attendance is much lower. Gasoline sells for a $1 a gallon and few people own cars. Almost everybody rides bikes because most of the people can't afford cars.

No major strikes have taken place there since the early 1900's because unions and managements have been able to iron things out before the strikes begin.

Desire For Rails Pulls Market Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—Sudden enthusiasm for the railroads today pulled the stock market ahead and enlivened trading.

Favored railroads added between 1 and 2 points while the remainder of the list advanced fractionally with few exceptions. At the same time fractional losses dotted major divisions.

In the forefront of the rise were such issues as Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Southern Railway, and Southern Pacific.

Chrysler was active and higher, and a few steels perked up in the midst of the recovery movement.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Studebaker, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, DuPont, McIntyre - Pocumtuck, Baltimore and Ohio, Texas Co., and Johns-Manville.

Director Envisions 5-Story Livestock Building For Fair

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Fair director Howard S. Foust envisions a five-story, air-conditioned, deluxe livestock exhibit building to overcome the space shortage at future Ohio State Fairs.

Foust, who also is state agricultural director, suggested the project Tuesday as he surveyed the lack of space at the fair. He said the building still is in the "dream stage." He said it would take two years to build and cost several million dollars.

Earlier, Gov. Frank J. Lausche said it was "inescapable" the next General Assembly will do something about overcrowding in time for the sesquicentennial exposition next year. He predicted the General Assembly will provide money for a new junior fair center, a new industrial exhibition hall and more land.

The statements by Foust and the governor came on the fifth consecutive day that the fair topped 1951 in attendance. Tuesday 61,000 persons toured the sprawling fairgrounds. On Tuesday a year ago

Returns To Crime To Aid Sick Brother

CINCINNATI (AP)—A parolee from Ohio State Penitentiary told police today he returned to crime to help finance treatments for a mentally ill brother, also an ex-convict.

Richard Christian, 31, signed a statement admitting burglary in 35 offices in three downtown office buildings. He and his brother, Robert, 23, DeMosselle, Ky., were together Monday when police took them into custody.

Richard said he and Robert were picked up as they were returning from Cincinnati Sanitarium where Robert had gone for shock treatments. He said he brought his brother here from DeMosselle earlier in the day for that purpose.

Police quoted the older brother as saying he pulled the 35 burglaries in an effort "to help out my parents, particularly in paying for shock treatments for Robert. My parents are both old and trying to live on a pension."

A third brother, James, is serving an indeterminate term in Mansfield Reformatory for burglary.

Soviet Believed Eyeing Austria As Satellite

VIENNA (AP) — Western officials are wondering if the Russians have picked Austria to be the next Soviet satellite.

There are increasing indications that Soviet policy toward Austria has changed since the Kremlin has lost much chance of winning all the East.

Austria, strategically located at the historic military crossroads of the continent, is one-fourth occupied by Russian troops. The Western Powers occupy the remainder. For seven years since the war,

But a drastic cut in American aid—from $190 million in 1951 to an anticipated $70 million in 1953—has begun to affect Austria's economic decline.

As the dollars decline, the Russians are moving in economically, with promises of rich rewards in the East.

Western officials say they fear that the Soviets have maintained the status quo, leaving an anti-Communist, pro-Western Austrian government to run Austrian affairs in all zones. Politically, the Soviets have been unable to buck the strong Catholicism of the nation's seven million people.

NEW YORK (AP)—Customs officials say an Air France steward, arrested yesterday on a charge of failing to declare seven platinum bars, had no reason to try to hide the metal.

There is no duty on platinum brought into this country, the customs spokesman said, and the only requirement is that it be declared.

But customs officials said the steward, Andre Foligny, 30, of Paris, apparently did not know this and hid the seven bars in a vest under his shirt. The platinum was valued at $7,000.

Indians Capture 6-3 Win Over Athletics In 11th Inning

Feller, Shantz In Hurling Duel

Yankees Also Win On Collins Homer

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

"Expendable" Bob Feller may have lost some of his mound magic of years gone by but the stout-hearted Cleveland righthander is not ready to act as a sacrificial lamb for anyone.

The former strikeout king was enjoying the last laugh today following one of his better performances of the year in which he teamed up with three other "expendable" teammates to bring a most important victory to the Indians.

The one-time Iowa Farmboy came within two outs of fanning a hurling duel from the fabulous Bobby Shantz last night before leaving the mound in the ninth inning with the Indians and Athletics deadlocked at 3-3.

The Indians went on to capture a thrill-packed 6-3 triumph in 11 innings to remain within one game of the American League-leading Yankees, who whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-3, in New York.

A two-run triple by castoff Barney McCosky, a Philadelphia discard, snapped the 3-3 deadlock and gave reliever Lou Brissie the win. Brissie, who also once wore the livery of the Athletics, retired all eight men he faced and struck out pinch hitter Keith Thomas and the dangerous Eddie Joost with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth after relieving Feller.

Lopez Satisfied

It was a great night for Manager Al Lopez, who not only saw Feller pitch one-hit ball for seven innings, but had the satisfaction of seeing George Strickland, his emergency shortstop, close a two-run homer in the seventh to break up a scoreless duel between the two Bobbies. It was only two days ago that Lopez had benched Ray Boone and had given the post to Strickland, a throw-in in a deal with Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn's run away Dodgers moved a step nearer to the National League flag, sweeping the four-game series in St. Louis with a 4-3 success over the Cardinals. The second-place New York Giants remained 10½ lengths behind the Dodgers, winning a 14-7 slugfest in Pittsburgh. Boston's Braves blanked the Reds in Cincinnati, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs eked out a 13-inning 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Washington moved into fourth place in the American League as Feb Portier batted in the only run in winning a 1-0 mound duel from Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox. The third-place Boston Red Sox continued to trail the Yankees by 3½ games, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers, 11-3.

Feller had won 239 big league ball games including three no-hitters but few of them have given him more satisfaction than yesterday's dramatic, albeit winless performance against Shantz and the A's.

According to a Cleveland writer, Feller, assigned to oppose Shantz in place of Mike Garcia, the Cleveland ace, was being sacrificed to the 22 game winning Philadelphia southpaw.

"Feller will be in there tonight because he's expendable," wrote Ed McCauley, able sports columnist of the Cleveland News. "If the fabulous little Bobby Shantz is to win his 23rd game at the expense of the Indians, it will hurt less if he wins it from Feller."

"We'll see tonight who is expendable or who is being sacrificed," was Feller's reply.

Homer Wins For Yankees

The Yankees won in the ninth inning when Joe Collins smashed a home run with two out and two runners on base to hang the defeat upon Satchell Paige, the ageless Brownie relief pitcher. The Yankees had tied the score in the eighth.

Rookie catcher Sammy White had batted in five runs with a pair of doubles and a single as the Red Sox cowed the Tigers.

A two-base wild throw by catcher Del Rice on a dribbler hit by George Shuba just 10 feet in front of the plate allowed two Brooklyn runners to score in the ninth.

enough to give the Dodgers a 4-3 decision over the Cards.

In the other games, Warren Spahn pitched a five-hit shutout for the Braves over the Reds, Dee Fondy singled to score Hank Sauer with the run that gave the Cubs their 13-inning triumph over the Phillies and Hoyt Wilhelm won his 12th game in relief as the Giants clubbed five Pittsburgh pitchers for 16 hits.

Bricker Says Left Wingers Smear Him

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Republican Sen. John W. Bricker Monday night accused Democratic "left wingers" of smearing him in an effort to elect a "yes man" in his opponent, Michael V. DiSalle.

Bricker, in a statement, referred to an attack on him Sunday by Averell Harriman, Mutual Security Administrator, in a speech before the Ohio CIO Political Action Committee in Columbus.

Bricker said Harriman's speech, "in frantic support" of DiSalle, "openly disclosed that the left-wing party-liners will smear me from now until election day in the hope of driving me from the Senate and of obtaining one more lackey vote for their American-last projects."

In his speech, Harriman called on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, to publicly repudiate or support Bricker. Harriman said Bricker voted against appropriations for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization whose military forces Eisenhower commanded.

Bricker replied he supported the first Mutual Security authorization "Because it looked to me that the countries of Europe were promising to rebuild their defense and their economies to take care of their own needs."

He added he saw the promises "collapse into failure under Harriman's miserable administration."

Bricker said Harriman was "speeding America into bankruptcy and getting no return in the way of European support or cooperation." That, he explained, is why he decided the expenditures for Mutual Security were too high.

CHICAGO (AP) — Automobiles are killing people at the rate of about 104 per day on the nation's streets and highways.

Pravda To Criticize New Red Statutes

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda announced today it is launching "both positive and critical" articles on the proposed changes in party statutes coming before the All-Union Party Congress Oct. 6. The official newspaper said it was doing this on instructions of the Central Committee of the USSR Communist party.

The newspaper said the party is determined to root out "suppressors of criticism" in party ranks, and that the new statutes provide the weapon to do this.

"Our party has one discipline and one law for all Communists, independent of services and posts occupied by them," Pravda said, adding that suppressors of criticism cannot remain in the ranks of the party.

The new statutes, it said, "make it not just the right, but the obligation of every party member to inform on faults in party work, right up to the Central Committee of the party."

Some Communists, it said, hide the truth from the party and cover up facts which show too wide a tendency among party people toward political "heedlessness and gullibility" and too much "revelation of party and state secrets."

The new statutes, Pravda explained, give increased powers to a committee on party control particularly in the field of party discipline.

Girl Playing With Rope Hooks Car, Is Killed

DANESE, W. Va. (AP) — Seven-year-old Hattie Lou Bragg was happily playing in front of her home yesterday, a 10-foot length of rope tied to her wrist.

The little girl was dragged 15 yards before the driver could be stopped. Hattie died on the way to a doctor's office.

Discussion of Diverticulosis

Since about one person in 20 develops what is known as a diverticulum or "diverticulosis" of the intestines, it is not surprising that many people write asking for information on that subject.

It should be said at the start that children rarely develop diverticula. Young people do not have them often, but in the middle and later years of life, they become quite common. Actually, although common, diverticula usually produce no symptoms whatever, and do not require any special treatment.

Now, a diverticulum is a pouch or pocket leading off from a large cavity of tube. Diverticula (more than one diverticulum) are most common in the colon or lower part of the bowel. When these pockets do not produce symptoms the condition is called diverticulosis. But, they can become inflamed and then the label diverticulitis is applied.

In diverticulitis the symptoms of inflammation vary a good deal. There may be a single slight attack of acute pain or several attacks of slight distress.

Occasionally, the inflammation may be so severe as to cause a perforation or hole in the pocket abdominal cavity and producing peritonitis, abscess formation, or obstruction.

The area involved may be sensitive to pressure, though of course many other conditions can cause such symptoms. For this reason the diagnosis is often difficult.

Rankin and Abernethy were opponents because the State Legislature combined their districts last April to eliminate a congressional seat lost in the 1950 census.

Rankin conceded defeat early today after unofficial returns from 341 of the district's 358 precincts in yesterday's state Democratic primary showed:

Abernethy, 26,903.

Rankin, 20,568.

The 49-year-old Abernethy was reserved about dethroning the 70-year-old dean of the Mississippi congressional delegation, who was seeking his 17th term in the House of Representatives.

TV To Be Used To Study Horse Races

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A new television system that will give stewards at racetracks a closeup view of the complete run-ing of all races, plus a quick film for any needed play-back, will get its first test today at the Atlantic City race course.

Eventually, the system may be extended throughout the sprawling racetracks so customers in dining rooms, club houses and grandstand lounges, bars and other places can witness the races from large TV screens.

The TV plan, going the present motion picture system of recording races one better, is being tested by

RCA engineers and is similar to that used in atomic research and industrial plants.

Speed is the keynote of the TV-film recording system. Cameras located at strategic points around the track will follow the race with their telescopic eyes, and a coaxial cable will bring the picture to a

TV screen in the stewards stand.

Simultaneously, the TV picture will be processed on cine-film and in event of a foul claim or inquiry by the stewards on some incident in the race, the record will be available in less than a minute.

The film can be projected, and slow motion will indicate the culprit, if any, as is done with the present filming of races at some tracks.

Charles Taft Promises Push For Increase In Betting Tax

COLUMBUS, O. (UPI)—Charles P. Taft, the Republican nominee for governor, said today if elected he will "push hard" for an increase in the tax on pari-mutuel betting at Ohio race tracks.

The statement was in a letter to Louis J. Taber, president of the Barnesville Enterprise Publishing Co., released today. In it Taft outlined what he thinks is needed in an Ohio farm program.

Taft said the pari-mutuel tax should be increased only to the extent needed "to provide a public service." He suggested a "modest" portion of the revenues from the increase—"not more than one fourth"—should be given to local communities for capital improvement at county fairs, such as better grandstands, tracks, stock barns and the like and "to the junior fairs of Ohio."

Receipts from the tax now go into the state's general revenue fund.

Taft said racing is part of the "general agricultural picture" in Ohio because a considerable part is harness racing at county fairs. There, he added, the emphasis "is on competitive spirit and skill" and is "conducted in an atmosphere of entertainment and sportsmanship, unlike anything in professional and commercialized racing."

"The Democrat governor," Taft asserted, "uses the race track operators as one of his 'whipping boys' for election purposes . . . harness racing should not be used as a political football. The public also should be mindful that taxes, whether from harness or running races, come from those who attend the races. They are not taken from the operators' share of the pari-mutuel as implied by the governor."

He said Gov. Frank J. Lausche "apparently . . . proposed an increase just to increase taxes, or to give the impression that he is penalizing some nefarious enterprise."

Gov. Lausche also has advocated an increase in the tax, which now is figured on a graduated scale ranging from 10 to 30 per cent. The tax is on the operators' share of gross betting receipts, which is 10 per cent of the total take. The remaining 90 per cent is divided among successful bettors. The last general assembly refused Gov.

Lausche's request to increase the tax, but the governor has said he will renew the request in the next session if reelected.

Taft also told Taber Ohio lacks both "an alert, well-organized department of agriculture," as well as "any definite program or any demonstrated imagination as to means by which state government can assist agriculture."

He said the present director of agriculture, Howard S. Foust, is trying to handle "too many jobs." Taft recommended the posts of director and state fair manager be made separate.

Taft declared the federal government has moved closer to control over Ohio's farm program, especially in milk production, because of the lack of a "positive farm program" by the state.

In addition to the increase in the pari-mutuel tax, Taft promised to "push hard" for these points if elected:

"Invigorate" agriculture administration at the top, with the director as chief administrator instead of a "jack of all trades acting as errand boy for himself."

A state fair manager who will devote full time to making Ohio's fair "the worthy symbol of Ohio's agriculture and of its close association with commerce and industry" and to coordinate activities with county fairs.

Promote, improve and expand conservation services in the department of natural resources.

YUGOSLAV CREW WANTS TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC—Although the Olympic games are over, these eight members of the Yugoslav rowing team refuse to go back to West Germany. The men are seeking political asylum and hope to emigrate to Canada. They are shown in front of their barracks in a refugee camp near Frankfurt.

Stimulate strip-mine administration.

Encourage and implement rural education and research.

Provide more support for the state fair with emphasis on youth facilities.

Provide more technical aids and insist upon improving service of smaller independent telephone companies in rural areas.

Maintain and improve private and professional medical and veterinarian service, with adequate preventive and inspection services, both for people and for animals.

Modernize and clarify the present drainage code for soil conservation and husbanding of water resources.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Do you remember in Paris when—"

That is a phrase that crops up often among veterans attending the American Legion convention here.

GAY PAREE? The very mention of her name brings a glint to the eyes of every man that knew her in wartime. For Paris was the silver foxhole of two world wars—the greatest leave city in history. She had a bit of happiness for every visitor in uniform.

"I was there on a pass in 1918," says the grey-haired veteran with a paunch. "I sat down at a table at a sidewalk cafe, and this girl came over to talk to me, and—honest to God—her name really was Charmaine, and—"

"You think Charmaine was something," breaks in the younger vet. "You oughta seen her daughter in 1945. It must have been her daughter, because I met her at a sidewalk cafe, too. She was like a double Martini in skirts, and—"

And others pitch in, and the lie-swapping goes on for hours. Every soldier is sure he saw Paris at her peak, and the things that happened to him never happen to anybody else in quite the same way.

I feel that way, too. But the time I saw Paris she was no lovely lady in a summer frock. She was a fierce fighting lass, with her gown torn from one shoulder, a gun slung over the other, and her hair streaming defiance in the wind.

It was the day the Allied liberators marched into Paris . . . eight years ago this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bowman are the parents of a baby girl born Aug. 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kimmel of Jewett, O., and Miss Lelia McCullough of Ulrichsville were guests in the Presbyterian Manse, Sunday, Aug. 24.

The Nazis began to fire indiscriminately . . . They pulled a half dozen Frenchmen into a courtyard, tried them and shot them on the spot . . . The rioting only spread . . . A home-made bomb—A bottle of gasoline—was tossed into a passing Nazi troop truck, and the enemy soldiers rolled off onto the pavement and died in flaming, screaming agony. French cheers echoed from nearby windows.

A great Allied task force was dispatched by Gen. Omar N. Bradley. It was spearheaded by a French armored division so Frenchmen could have the honor of liberating their own capital.

But the Gallic tanks lumbered slowly. Every few hundred yards they stopped to be garlanded with flowers, and the tankmen crawled out to get a kiss and a bottle of wine from the suburban Charmaines.

Oh, but then all Paris erupted with joy. The patriots and suspected collaborationists still fired at each other from the rooftops, but on the streets the crowds danced . . . And there was champagne . . . And flowers . . . And kisses everywhere.

"Any guy that didn't get kissed today," said one soldier, "is an exhibitionist."

At Paris, Paris, no one who missed her on the day she drank the wine of freedom ever knew Paris at her peak.
